The National Gallery of Australia Foundation

The National Gallery of Australia Foundation is a registered charity and raises funds to support the Gallery and its programs, including maintaining, improving and developing the national collection. The Foundation has development funds that aim to further strengthen specific areas of the collection. These include the Decorative Arts and Design Collection Development Fund, the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Collection Development Fund, the Photography Fund and the Asian Art Fund. Donors to these specific funds are kept informed of the progress of these areas of the collection and have the opportunity to engage with other enthusiasts and collectors as well as the Director of the Gallery and curatorial staff.

Masterpieces for the Nation Appeal

Since the appeal was launched in 2003, through the generosity of our donors, the Gallery has been able to purchase three significant Australian paintings: Creation landscape – fountains of the earth 2002 by William Robinson, WC. Piquenit's near Liverpool, New South Wales c. 1908 and last year's very popular acquisition Flamingoes c. 1906 by Sydney Long. This year we are delighted to present donors with the opportunity to participate in acquiring two major works for the National Collection – Jeffrey Smart's Lovers by house 1956 and Gopashtami, a nineteenth-century Indian pichhavai.

Other ways to support the National Gallery of Australia
